SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF OHIO
WESTERN DIVISION

DEACON THOMAS FRAZIER,

Case No. 1:23-cv-445

Plaintiff,

vs.

Barrett, J.
Bowman, M.J.

FIFTH THIRD BANK,

Defendant.

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

Plaintiff, a resident of Kentucky, brings this action against Fifth Third Bank. By separate Order issued this date, plaintiff has been granted leave to proceed in forma pauperis pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915. This matter is before the Court for a sua sponte review of plaintiff's motion to determine whether the motion, or any portion of it, should be dismissed if it is frivolous, malicious, fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted or seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. §1915(e)(2)(B).

In enacting the original in forma pauperis statute, Congress recognized that a "litigant whose filing fees and court costs are assumed by the public, unlike a paying litigant, lacks an economic incentive to refrain from filing frivolous, malicious, or repetitive lawsuits." Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25, 31 (1992) (quoting Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 324 (1989)). To prevent such abusive litigation, Congress has authorized federal courts to dismiss an in forma pauperis complaint if they are satisfied that the action is frivolous or malicious. Id.; see also 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B)(i). A complaint may be dismissed as frivolous when the plaintiff cannot make any claim with a rational or arguable basis in fact or law. Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 328-29 (1989); see also Lawler v. Marshall, 898 F.2d 1196, 1198 (6th Cir. 1990). An action has no arguable legal basis when the defendant is immune from suit or when plaintiff claims a violation of a legal interest which clearly does not exist. Neitzke, 490 U.S. at 327. An action has no arguable factual basis when the allegations are delusional or rise to the level of the irrational or “wholly incredible.” Denton, 504 U.S. at 32; Lawler, 898 F.2d at 1199. The Court need not accept as true factual allegations that are fantastic or delusional in reviewing a complaint for frivolousness. Hill v. Lappin, 630 F.3d 468, 471 (6th Cir. 2010) (quoting Neitzke, 490 U.S. at 328).

Congress also has authorized the sua sponte dismissal of complaints that fail to state a claim upon which relief may be granted. 28 U.S.C. § 1915 (e)(2)(B)(ii). A complaint filed by a pro se plaintiff must be “liberally construed” and “held to less stringent standards than formal pleadings drafted by lawyers.” Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89, 94 (2007) (per curiam) (quoting Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 106 (1976)). By the same token, however, the complaint “must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to ‘state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.’” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)); see also Hill, 630 F.3d at 470-71 (“dismissal standard articulated in Iqbal and Twombly governs dismissals for failure to state a claim” under §§ 1915A(b)(1) and 1915(e)(2)(B)(ii)).

“A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678 (citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 556). The Court must accept all well-pleaded factual allegations as true, but need not “accept as true a legal conclusion couched as a factual allegation.” Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555 (quoting Papasan v. Allain, 478 U.S. 265, 286 (1986)). Although a complaint need not contain “detailed factual allegations,” it must provide “more than an unadorned, the-defendant-unlawfully-harmed-me accusation.” Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678 (citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555). A pleading that offers “labels and conclusions” or “a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.” Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555. Nor does a complaint suffice if it tenders “naked assertion[s]” devoid of “further factual enhancement.” Id. at 557. The complaint must “give the defendant fair notice of what the . . . claim is and the grounds upon which it rests.” Erickson, 551 U.S. at 93 (citations omitted).

Here, Plaintiff’s complaint asserts that Defendant Fifth Third Bank “stole [his] $3000.17 IRA account.” (Doc. 1. at 4). For relief, Plaintiff “demand[s] that you do my 2022 taxes” as well as monetary damages in the amount of $13,768.68. Id. at 5. Most of Plaintiff’s factual allegations are illogical and incomprehensible. However, the allegations stem from allegations raised in a prior complaint in this court wherein Judge Barrett granted Fifth Third’s motion to dismiss the amended complaint. (See Frazier v. Fifth Third, et al., 1:22-279-MRB-SKB, Doc. 30). In this most recent complaint, Plaintiff states that should he receive a jury trial, that “every time that it is my turn to speak I shall show the jury that South Park video.” Id. at 5. He also seems to be addressing District Judge Susan Dlott, though perhaps he intended to be referencing the undersigned, as he states, “Susan, I do NOT trust your judgement. Perhaps it is because you are right across the street from 5/3 bank. When you denied my subpoena to find the accounts where my monies were co-mingled with other peoples money I took it in stride thinking we are headed to arbitration or adjudication next. Then you dismissed my case saying that it was not worth $750,000. I say it is. I say that it was your ruling making it not worth that." (Id.). The complaint provides no factual content or context from which the Court may reasonably infer that the Defendant violated Plaintiff's rights under federal law. Plaintiff's complaint also fails to contain sufficient factual allegations to establish jurisdiction based on diversity; namely he does not assert the requisite amount in controversy. Accordingly, the complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, is frivolous, and should be dismissed under 28 U.S.C. §1915(e)(2)(B).

For these reasons, it is therefore RECOMMENDED this action be DISMISSED with PREJUDICE for frivolity and for failure to state a claim for relief. It is further RECOMMENDED that the Court certify pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3) that for the foregoing reasons an appeal of any Order adopting this Report and Recommendation would not be taken in good faith and therefore deny Plaintiff leave to appeal in forma pauperis.
